

Business Financing

Going forward with a sense of security

Want to be able to react flexibly to unforeseen financial commitments? We ensure that you have the leeway in terms of liquidity.

Our commercial financings afford you the entrepreneurial leeway to finance your current assets and thereby ensure that you have liquidity when you need it. As a result, you can respond rapidly and without complicated procedures to unforeseeable developments and different financing needs.

The dynamic scope of our commercial credits enables you plan the amount of drawdown you need within the limit of your credit line. And interest is charged only on the actually drawn amount.

An overview of commercial financings

- Limit determined on the basis of your current account
- Free access to funding within that limit
- Interest calculated only on the basis of the effective debit balance
- Drawdowns as fixed advance with terms less than one year
- Assurance of liquidity leeway by means of a freely available line of credit

Why VP Bank?

In that we, too, are entrepreneurs, we are well aware of just how important financial leeway is. By offering tailor-made financing solutions, we help to ensure that you have that entrepreneurial leeway.
